Scope and Contents

Research material for a projected book on the stagecraft of Bernard Shaw ("George Bernard Shaw at Work in the Theatre"), consisting of unedited typescript transcripts of 26 interviews with 27 interviewees. Interviewees include Dame Edith Evans, Sir Cedric Hardwicke, Christopher Fry, and Dame Sybil Thorndike.

The interviews comprising this collection were conducted between January 1960 and August 1962 with actors who had performed in the plays of Shaw at a time when he had personal involvement in their production. Langton wished to test by this means his thesis that while Shaw was "at the forefront of the modern theatre," his stagecraft was of an earlier epoch, depending on "the 19th century actor's theatre of declamation and rhetoric."

The 26 transcripts comprising this collection were taken from 74 reel-to-reel tapes held by the Ransom Center. It's probable these tapes have not been fully transcribed in all cases.
