Biographical Sketch

David O. Selznick (1902-1965) began his film career working for his father's production companies. In 1926 he joined MGM as a reader and quickly rose to assistant producer. Two years later, Selznick left MGM to become executive assistant at Paramount. In 1931 he moved to RKO as vice president in charge of production. He returned to MGM in 1933 and there produced such films as Dinner at Eight (1933), David Copperfield (1935), Anna Karenina (1935), and A Tale of Two Cities (1935).

Selznick, in partnership with John Hay ("Jock") Whitney, formed his first independent film production company, Selznick International Pictures (SIP), in 1935. Movies produced under the SIP aegis include A Star is Born (1937), The Prisoner of Zenda (1937), Nothing Sacred (1937), The Adventures of Tom Sawyer (1938), and Gone With the Wind (1939). Selznick was responsible for bringing the Swedish actress, Ingrid Bergman, and the British director, Alfred Hitchcock, to Hollywood. Hitchcock directed Rebecca (1940), Spellbound (1945), and Notorious (1946) while under contract to Selznick.

Selznick began liquidation of Selznick International Pictures in 1940 for tax reasons, but reorganized and continued producing films as an independent. He also supported his enterprise by selling developed projects and loaning out his contract stars to other studios. In 1946, Selznick created his own distribution company, Selznick Releasing Organization (SRO). He entered into European coproduction beginning with The Third Man (1950), and he produced a live television special celebrating the 60th anniversary of electricity, Light's Diamond Jubilee, in 1954. A Farewell to Arms (1957) marked the last film Selznick personally produced, though he continued to keep an active interest in the film business until his death in 1965.

David O. Selznick was the son of pioneer film producer Lewis J. Selznick and the brother of Hollywood talent agent Myron Selznick. He married Irene Gladys Mayer, the daughter of MGM head Louis B. Mayer, in 1930. In 1949, after his first marriage had ended in divorce, Selznick married Jennifer Jones, an actress who starred in several of his productions including Duel in the Sun (1946) and Portrait of Jennie (1948). Selznick had two sons by his first marriage, Lewis Jeffrey (1932- ) and Daniel Mayer (1936- ), and one daughter by his second marriage, Mary Jennifer (1954-1976).

Scope and Contents

The David O. Selznick Papers contains records documenting every aspect of his Hollywood studio operations including script development, production, publicity, finances, and distribution. The major part of the records span the years 1916 to 1966 which correspond to film's pioneer days in New York through the heyday of the studio system in Hollywood, to the rise of television. Selznick was employed at three major studios, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer (MGM), Paramount, and RKO. As an independent, his credits include A Star Is Born (1937), Gone With the Wind (1939), and Rebecca (1940). Selznick played out his activities against the backdrop of censorship under the Hays Office, the hardship of the Depression, the impact of World War II, and the paranoia of America's "red scare." The collection covers the years from 1904 to 1980 with most of the material dating from the mid 1930s through the mid 1950s.

The records are arranged in thirteen series based on the departmental division of the studio: Administrative, Casting, Distribution, Financial, Legal, Lewis J. Selznick (LJS), London, Music, Production, Publicity, Research, Story, Talent, and a fourteenth series, Gifts, that includes materials donated by Selznick's family. The physical order of the records was disturbed over the years and the present arrangement is an attempt to restore the materials to the original order as represented by the inventory list (Bekins list) that came with the collection.

The collection comprises all the types of materials one would expect to be generated by a film studio, including appointment books, audio recordings, awards, balance sheets, call sheets, clippings, correspondence, journal vouchers, ledgers, memos, minutes, music, notebooks, photographic prints and negatives, posters, props, realia, scrapbooks, scripts, set and costume designs, story boards, and telegrams. Through analysis of the above materials, one can trace the evolution of a film such as Gone With the Wind from story purchase through script development, casting, design, production, exploitation, distribution, and reissue. Though most of the material represents Selznick's independent career, there are also records from his father's companies, from his employment at the RKO, Paramount, and MGM studios, and materials concerning his personal affairs. There is documentation not only of the movies Selznick produced outright, but also of those he developed and sold, as well as those never realized.

The collection touches on virtually every major Hollywood person, studio, and event of Selznick's day. Persons represented in the collection include, but are not limited to:

- Writers, including Truman Capote, F. Scott Fitzgerald, Gene Fowler, Oliver H. P. Garrett, Graham Greene, Ben Hecht, Sidney Howard, Aldous Huxley, Ring Lardner, Jr., Dorothy Parker, Robert E. Sherwood, Budd Schulberg, Peter Viertel, and Hugh Walpole;
- Musicians, including Bernard Herrmann, Oscar Levant, Miklos Rozsa, Max Steiner, Dimitri Tiomkin, and Franz Waxman;
- Producers, including Samuel Goldwyn, Mark Hellinger, Alexander Korda, and Louis B. Mayer; directors Frank Capra, George Cukor, Vittorio De Sica, Victor Fleming, John Ford, Alfred Hitchcock, John Huston, Carol Reed, King Vidor and William A. Wellman;
- Actors, including Ethel, John, and Lionel Barrymore, Ingrid Bergman, Charles Boyer, Montgomery Clift, Claudette Colbert, Ronald Colman, Joseph Cotten, Olivia de Havilland, Marlene Dietrich, Joan Fontaine, Clark Gable, Greta Garbo, Janet Gaynor, Lillian Gish, Cary Grant, Leslie Howard, Rock Hudson, Jennifer Jones, Louis Jourdan, Vivien Leigh, Carole Lombard, Myrna Loy, Fredric March, Hattie McDaniel, Dorothy McGuire, Laurence Olivier, Gregory Peck, Basil Rathbone, Ginger Rogers, Shirley Temple, Alida Valli, and Orson Welles.

Series & Subseries Descriptions

Series 1. Administrative, 1915-1973, 1093.5 boxes

Subseries 1A: David O. Selznick (DOS), 1915-1973, 843 boxes

Selznick's own records document his personal involvement in every aspect of his business and chronicle his life, both personal and professional, from his apprenticeship in his father's movie companies through his employment with MGM, Paramount and RKO, and his career as an independent producer. While he was famous for his memos, this series also includes address books, appointment books, chronological files, clippings, contracts, correspondence, daily calendars, distribution reports, fan mail, photographs, preview cards, records, scrapbooks, scripts, tape recordings, and telegrams. The twenty-eight subseries described below are arranged in alphabetical order and then chronologically within each subseries. As his correspondence often touched on many projects at the same time, Selznick's secretaries used several methods to cross reference and keep track of his myriad activities. In one method, the secretaries made multiple copies to file in the various relevant subject files. For example, Selznick discussed in a memo the possibility of casting either Ronald Colman or Laurence Olivier in Rebecca. Copies can be found in the addressees' files (if they were Selznick employees), in Selznick's Rebecca casting file, and in Ronald Colman's and Laurence Olivier's respective talent files. In other cases, the secretary made a copy of the message and cut the copy into pieces. Each piece would be stapled to a letter size page and filed in the relevant subject file. Sometimes such a page is marked "excerpt, original filed in ____". Yellow cross reference sheets (subject: see file _____) are sometimes used. Because of these practices, a subject can be tracked back and forth through Selznick's various files and through the other studio departments.

Subseries 1A1. Chronological Files, 1961-1963, 9.5 boxes

Madelon Bryan, the executive secretary in charge of filing, set up the chronological files in the late 1940s as a cross file for all of Selznick's messages. Most of these files were apparently discarded by the studio but chronological files from January to March 1942 are in Subseries A24, Studio Files, boxes 321 to 322, and Marjorie MacDougall's files holds the 1964 to 1965 set.

Subseries 1A2. Clippings, 1938-1973, 5 boxes

For Duel in the Sun, Gone With the Wind, Since You Went Away, DOS death, and Memo from David O. Selznick.

Subseries 1A3. Confidential Files, 1933-1965, 17.5 boxes

Contains mostly personal and financial files. Includes files on communism, bets and gambling, doctors, insurance, politics, and taxes.

Subseries 1A4. Consolidated Files, 1930-1967, 49 boxes

A portion of Selznick's files were brought forward and combined, possibly by his secretary, Shirley Harden. These consolidated files cover a wide date span and for descriptive purposes here are divided here into studio and personal. The Bekins list designation for these files is unknown. They are arranged alphabetically by subject within each date range. The studio segment includes files on the properties for Dracula's Daughter, Freedom of the Press, and files on Triangle Pictures. In the personal segment is biographical material, correspondence with Katharine Brown, Merian C. Cooper, Janet Gaynor, Ingrid Bergman, Truman Capote, Gardner and Fleur Cowles, Cary Grant, John Ford, Aldous Huxley, John Foster Dulles, and William S. Paley, files on family, personnel, household, politics, charities, travel, gambling, and medical care.

Subseries 1A5. Coproductions, Loanouts, 1939-1963, 8.5 boxes

This is mostly correspondence on Jennifer Jones's productions including Beat the Devil, The Wild Heart (Gone to Earth), Ruby Gentry, Madame Bovary, Barretts of Wimpole Street, and Terminal Station (Stazione Termini). There are also files on Jennifer Jones's play Portrait of a Lady and on The Third Man.

Subseries 1A6. Correspondence, 1962-1965, 20 boxes

These files are labeled correspondence on the Bekins list but are essentially similar in content to those in Subseries 1A24, Studio Files. This subseries contains files on stories, productions, reissues, rereleases, Gone With the Wind rights, legal matters, etc. Correspondence is found throughout Selznick's files. Most of the administrative correspondence is in Daniel T. O'Shea's files in Subseries B.

Subseries 1A7. Daily Calendars, 1935-1965, 6 boxes

Appointment and telephone logs.

Subseries 1A8. Directors & Producers, 1936-1962, 9.5 boxes

Correspondence concerning many major directors of the period, both American and foreign, especially Alfred Hitchcock, William Dieterle, Alexander Korda, and Vittorio DeSica. The files in boxes 2285 to 2290 include information on producers.

Subseries 1A9. Early Career, 1915-1924, 2.5 boxes

These boxes contain Selznick's school records, a scrapbook on Myron Selznick's early production efforts, Selznick's work for his father, copies of the newsletter (The Brain Exchange) that he published for his father's employees, as well as files on the film shorts, Will He Conquer Dempsey? and the Valentino Mineralava Beauty Contest.

Subseries 1A10. Financial, 1928-1958, 15 boxes

These files contain records that were held specifically with Selznick's personal files: reports, statements, stock reports, hotel receipts, Oliver Jeffries Productions, omnibus reports, SRO, Vanguard Films, and checks. They are complemented by records in Series 4, Financial.

Subseries 1A11. InterOffice Files, 1944-1963, 72.5 boxes

These are files of interoffice memos and correspondence to departments and department heads. Duplicate copies of memos filed here can also be found filed in the pertinent subject files.

Subseries 1A12. Legal Files, 1936-1943, 3 boxes

Contracts, some memos. Many of these were moved by the studio to consolidated legal files, see Series 5, Legal.

Subseries 1A13. MGM Files, 1926-1936, 11.5 boxes

In Selznick's first employment with MGM, he quickly worked his way up in the Story Department to production supervisor. These files contain the record of this progress including many memos to Harry Rapf, MGM Supervisor, and documentation of Selznick's work on the Tim McCoy westerns. Selznick returned to MGM as a unit supervisor or producer. These records are for the most part files on story ideas, but also contain memos to MGM executives, film possibilities for MGM stars (Greta Garbo and Joan Crawford), and files on Selznick's productions (e.g., Anna Karenina, Tale of Two Cities).

Subseries 1A14. Myron Selznick Estate, 1944-1963, 13.5 boxes

These files document Selznick's concerns as the coexecutor for his brother's estate. Included are files on the Myron Selznick Agency in London and in Hollywood, and on Gone With the Wind, in which Myron Selznick had owned an interest.

Subseries 1A15. Organization, 1934-1966, 91 boxes

Files on the studio organization as a whole. There are files on awards, contracts, copyrights, distribution (domestic and foreign), finances, the Golden Laurel Award, Gone With the Wind (television and play rights, musical version, anniversary showing), insurance, music, screen guilds, the Selznick Releasing Organization, MGM, 20th Century Fox, RKO, United Artists, taxes, television, and television networks.

Subseries 1A16. Paramount Files, 1928-1931, 6.5 boxes

Selznick joined Paramount as Executive Assistant to B. P. Schulberg in charge of the Story Department, and his tenure there coincided with the introduction of sound to movie-making. These files document his activities and include many memos to Schulberg and story editor, E. J. Montagne.

Subseries 1A17. Personal Files, 1915-1966, 54 boxes

Present are miscellaneous files primarily on Selznick's personal affairs: bets and gambling, charities, Christmas gifts and cards, family and friends, personal finances, household staff, Jewish associations, politics, etc. Also some files on studio matters.

Subseries 1A18. Production Files, 1923-1958, 123 boxes

Contains memos on every aspect of production and documents the attention Selznick poured into every detail of making and marketing a film. Includes files on budget, casting, censorship, commercial tie-ups, directors, distribution, lighting, makeup, production, publicity, screenwriting, sets, and wardrobe. The material here can direct the researcher to other sources in the collection. Files are arranged alphabetically by subject under each movie title: Will He Conquer Dempsey?; Little Lord Fauntleroy; Tom Sawyer Abroad; Adventures of Tom Sawyer (preview cards); Garden of Allah; Prisoner of Zenda; A Star Is Born; Gone With the Wind (fan mail; second release); Paradine Case; Made for Each Other; Nothing Sacred; Young in Heart; Rebecca; Intermezzo; Wild Heart; Cadet Nurse Corps; Since You Went Away; Portrait of Jennie; I'll Be Seeing You; Spellbound; Duel in the Sun; Light's Diamond Jubilee; A Farewell to Arms (Life Magazine; preview cards). All the files except those for Duel in the Sun, Light's Diamond Jubilee, and A Farewell to Arms are listed at folder level.

Subseries 1A19. RKO Files, 1931-1933, 1 box

Selznick headed production at RKO and personally supervised several projects such as Katharine Hepburn's first film, A Bill of Divorcement. This section includes files on talent (recruitment of Fred Astaire from the New York stage), memos to Merian C. Cooper (producer of King Kong), to Ben Kahane (RKO president), and personal files.

Subseries 1A20. Safe Deposit Files, 1931-1967, 1.5 boxes

Vital records and private papers were kept in a steel vault at Bekins Storage Co. These include Selznick's MGM, RKO, and Paramount contracts, loan agreements, and payments.

Subseries 1A21. Selznick International Pictures (SIP) Files, 1935-1940, 41.5 boxes

Similar to Subseries 1A24, Studio Files, but specific to SIP. Includes files on talent, personnel, stories, United Artists, etc. This material is listed at box level.

Subseries 1A22. Stills (Photographs), 19-- -1965, 10.5 boxes

Contains personal and professional photographs of David O. Selznick and Jennifer Jones, photographs of Lewis J. Selznick and his family, Myron Selznick and his family, Irene Selznick, Jeffrey and Daniel Selznick, and Robert and Michael Walker. There are many childhood photos and slides of Mary Jennifer Selznick. Photos and slides of family outings include friends such as Rex Harrison and Rachel Roberts, and Henry Fonda and family. Search the keyword "stills" in the Selznick Collection Database.

Subseries 1A23. Story Files, 1935-1967, 74.5 boxes

Files on story properties and possibilities. Includes London play reviews as well as files on The Accident, Joan of Arc, The Farmer's Daughter, Mary Magdalene, Scarlet O'Hara, Tender Is the Night, Tess of the D'Urbervilles, Stazione Termini, and The Titanic.

Subseries 1A24. Studio Files, 1931-1964, 102.5 boxes

Miscellaneous files relating to Selznick's studio activities as an independent. Includes material on productions, Academy of Motion Picture Arts & Sciences, Gallup poll, Audience Research Inc. [ARI], other studios, United Artists, personnel, correspondence with East coast representative, Katharine Brown, and story editor, Val Lewton. The large grouping of files under the date range 1938-43 is one alphabetical run, listed at folder level. For the most part, the other files are listed only at box level.

Subseries 1A25. Talent Files, 1936-1963, 31.5 boxes

Correspondence relating to major stars of the period, especially contract stars Ingrid Bergman, Joan Fontaine, Vivien Leigh, Gregory Peck, Shirley Temple, Jennifer Jones, and Alida Valli. Most of these files are listed at box level.

Subseries 1A26. Telegrams, 1938-1963, 58 boxes

Incoming and outgoing telegrams. Copies of these telegrams are cross filed in the relevant subject or person file.

Subseries 1A27. Tower Grove Files, 1953-1955, 2 boxes

These files document the remodeling and maintenance of Selznick's home. Additional information can be found in Series 4, Financial.

Subseries 1B. Daniel T. O'Shea, 1936-1951, 146.5 boxes

Daniel T. O'Shea first worked with Selznick at RKO and rejoined him when SIP was formed. O'Shea resigned from Vanguard Films/Selznick Studio in 1950 when Selznick was turning his focus from Hollywood to producing pictures in Europe, and took an executive position with CBS. O'Shea was Selznick's top executive officer and right hand man. Also a lawyer, his files deal particularly with contractual obligations. They include agreements, contracts, talent, production, scripts, and files on the Selznick Releasing Organization. The extensive run of correspondence and the general files from 1936-42 are listed at folder level. The scripts and most of the other files are listed at box level. Files include contracts, correspondence, DOS stars, general files, production files ( Made for Each Other, Nothing Sacred, Gone With the Wind (music), Little Women, Since You Went Away, I'll Be Seeing You, Spellbound, Katie for Congress, Duel in the Sun), scripts, SIP production reports, synopses, telegrams, telephone call sheets.

Subseries 1C. Harriett Flagg, 1935-1945, 9 boxes

Head of New York Office. General files on office, productions, story possibilities, and telegrams.

Subseries 1D. Henry Ginsberg, 1936-1939, 1 box

Files.

Subseries 1E. Shirley Harden, 1936-1963, 43 boxes

Selznick's secretary in the 1950s and 60s. The date span of the records reflects the dates of the material, not the dates of Ms. Harden's employment. Ms. Harden went through the stored files and brought together all the files she found on Gone With the Wind (See Bekins #3733-3748 for her listing of these files). Her arrangement had already been lost before processing began. The decision was made to return Gone With the Wind files to their original placement if it could be ascertained. Otherwise they were filed according to Ms. Harden's arrangement. Files include accounts, consolidated GWTW, consolidated story, lists, scripts, secretarial files, shorthand books, story files, story possibilities, television, and unfiled papers.

Subseries 1F. John Houseman, 1941, 3 boxes

Houseman signed on with David O. Selznick Productions as a producer under Selznick's general supervision. He spent his year there primarily working with Selznick's theatre project.

Series 4. Financial, 1926-1969, 846.5 boxes

There is extensive financial information on Selznick's affairs, both personal and professional. Types of material include account books, balance sheets, bank books, cancelled checks, correspondence, financial statements, insurance records, invoices, journal vouchers, ledgers, paid bills, payroll, and tax records. The files are generally in alphabetical or chronological order by format. Many of the financial files are physically scattered throughout the last 1000 boxes of the collection, sometimes with just one file of financial material in a box of materials from other series. While the following list attempts to bring together as much information about the financial series as possible, the most effective search for financial material would be through the Selznick Collection Database.

Subseries 4A. E. L. Scanlon, 1926-1953, 126 boxes

Ernest L. Scanlon came into Selznick's employment through Pioneer Pictures. He was the studio's main financial officer until he resigned in 1949. Series 6. Lewis J. Selznick, 1916-1923, 75 boxes

Contains the business and legal records of this pioneer film producer which provide information on the movie business in its infancy. Includes records on Lewis J. Selznick's companies such as the Clara Kimball Young Corporation, World Film Corporation, and Select Pictures Corporation. Also includes information on Republic Distributing Corporation and Selznick Pictures, and other figures of the silent era, such as Sam Goldwyn (then Goldfish), William Fox, Herbert Brenon, Adolph Zukor, John Barrymore, Norma Talmadge, and others. The series is arranged alphabetically by subject and is listed at box level.

Series 7. London, 1937-1967, 181.5 boxes

The London Office, headed by Jenia Reissar, provided Selznick with information on foreign talent and properties. There is good coverage of the London stage, of European films (especially those of Italy and France), and of Selznick's European coproductions, The Third Man, The Wild Heart (Gone to Earth), and Indiscretion of an American Wife (Stazione Termini). Here are the London Office records of the Selznick Releasing Organization (Selznick Studio Releasing Division) on world-wide distribution and exploitation. There is also documentation on the Golden Laurel Award, set up by Selznick to recognize foreign film contributions to international good will. Materials include correspondence, clippings, photographs, agreements, and scrapbooks. Material is arranged alphabetically by format of material.

Subseries 7A. Jenia Reissar, 1937-1954, 108 boxes

Ms. Reissar was the foreign production representative who kept Selznick apprised of foreign talent and stories. Arabella LeMaitre in Rome and Laurence Piloix in Paris reported to Ms. Reissar. Story files contain synopses with reader's comments and scripts. Talent files contain photos, clippings, and tear sheets of European talent including Brigitte Bardot, Julie Andrews, Patrick MacNee, Maria Schell, Yves Montand, Simone Signoret, and Anouk Aimee, as well as files on Selznick contract stars. The file groups for productions, Vanguard Films, and correspondence contain general correspondence on productions, studio affairs, negotiations with foreign companies and agencies, Jennifer Jones, Irene Selznick, and talent. Ms. Reissar reports to Selznick frankly and in great detail regarding such matters as her negotiations with the Oliviers or with Alexander Korda, as well as how it feels to experience the blitz in wartime England. The subjects covered in the correspondence are typed in red in the upper right hand corner of the page. Other materials present include clipping files, contracts, and publicity files.

Subseries 7B. Anthony Downing, 1947-1955, 30.5 boxes

Foreign Publicity Director. His files include clippings, Golden Laurel Award material, publicity daily files, publicity files, and scrapbooks.

Subseries 7D. Victor J. Hoare, 1947-1956, 38.5 boxes

SRO Executive Director in charge of distribution. Correspondence, and files for distribution, Golden Laurel Award, and Selznick Releasing Organization New York and Hollywood.

Series 8. Music, 1934-1957, 116 boxes, 147 music folders

This series contains the film scores for Selznick's independent productions. This includes full orchestral scores, conductor parts, sketches, and orchestra parts. Besides the film scores in reel sequential order are found medleys, special arrangements for recordings, broadcasts and concerts. Also found here is primary source material including folk music, 19th and 20th century popular song and dance music as well as excerpts drawn from the "classical" repertoire of the 17th-20th centuries. Also included are timing sheets, recording and orchestration notes as well as original sketches for the music. The contents of the document boxes are arranged as follows: 1. complete conductor part in reel sequential order, including any notes; 2. orchestra parts preceded by extra scores (also in sequential reel order except where instrumental section folders contain miscellaneous reels and scenes.); 3. vocal and choral scores and parts; 4. primary source material, special and alternate versions; 5. unused scores and material; 6. extra, often unsorted, parts and scores. Oversize scores and parts, housed in oversize folders, are now also described in the Selznick Collection Database. Separation sheets filed in reel sequence in the document cases document where the oversize scores and parts were originally located. This series contains the work of several important Hollywood composers including Max Steiner (Gone With the Wind, Intermezzo), Dimitri Tiomkin (Duel in the Sun, Portrait of Jennie), Franz Waxman (Rebecca), and Miklos Rosza (Spellbound). Not included are the full scores for Spellbound; however, full scores for two versions for piano and orchestra ("The Spellbound Concerto") are included as well as conductor and orchestra parts for the film. Found in the material for Intermezzo is the original Swedish version, the version for violin and orchestra, and extensive excerpts of source material. Standard orchestration is usually employed. Among the noted exceptions is the extensive use of the theremin, an early electronic instrument, heard in Rosza's score for Spellbound and Tiomkin's score for Portrait of Jennie. The latter score is also based extensively on the music of Claude Debussy, and includes an arrangement of L'après-midi d'un faune for theremin and a jazz version of Fille aux cheveux de lin. Included in the score for Duel in the Sun is extensive use of guitar and Mexican dance music. This material also includes medleys/arrangements for radio and recordings. Gone With the Wind includes leitmotifs for characters and locations from the film. Since You Went Away includes a complete unused score by Alexander Tansman. Songs from various Selznick films arranged for Rhonda Fleming and others from the music for the Selznick Star Tours are also included. Only the conductor part is present for Prisoner of Zenda; the full score has not been located. Conductor and orchestra parts are present for Rebecca, but the full score is located at Syracuse University. The only film for which no music is present is The Third Man, presumably because the music was improved.

Subseries 8A. Films, 1934-1954, 83 boxes

Music Director. Files and publications.

Subseries 8C. Audray Granville, 1945-1947, 2.5 boxes

Head of Music Department, 1945-1947. Files.

Subseries 8D. Miscellaneous, 1944-1957, 5 boxes

Includes varied files with timing cue sheets, sheet music, and promotion for Duel in the Sun, A Farewell to Arms, I'll Be Seeing You, The Paradine Case, Portrait of Jennie, Selznick Stars Tour, and The Third Man.

Series 9. Production, 1920-1958, 213.5 boxes

These files are the records of the departments involved in the actual making of the film--Art, Camera-Special Effects, Location, Sound, Wardrobe, and Cutting. All of Selznick's independent productions are represented. Included in this series are set sketches, set construction drawings, photographs of wardrobe tests, and of set interiors and exteriors. There are story boards such as those depicting the flight from burning Atlanta for Gone With the Wind, the hurricane sequence for Portrait of Jennie, and the Salvador Dali-designed dream sequence for Spellbound. The series also contains camera reports, dialogue and cutting continuities, cutting notes, daily production reports, memos, cost estimates, call sheets, inserts, scripts, matte shots, costume designs, costumes, and props. With the exception of the stills, most of the material in this series is listed at box level. Other Selznick employees who appear as authors, but who are not listed individually below include James Basevi, James Newcom, Walter Daniels, and William Phillipson.

Subseries 9A. Cecil Barker, 1946-1954, 16 boxes

Assistant to Selznick. Files deal primarily with film editing and the cutting room.

Subseries 9B. Arthur Fellows, 1946-1954, 10.5 boxes

Production Assistant. Manager files.

Subseries 9C. Hal C. Kern, 1937-1948, 11 boxes

Film editor. Cutting and cutting room files.

Subseries 9D. Raymond A. Klune, 1936-1942, 16.5 boxes

Production Manager. Manager files.

Subseries 9E. Argyle Nelson, 1944-1948, 22 boxes

Production Manager. Manager files.

Subseries 9F. Phil L. Ryan, 1935-1936, 3.5 boxes

Production Manager. Manager files are mostly on Garden of Allah, Little Lord Fauntleroy, and Light's Diamond Jubilee.

Subseries 9G. Clarence Slifer, 1935-1951, 72 boxes

Mr. Slifer was head of the Camera Special Effects Department but his files also contain set design and set construction material. These files contain construction drawings of set details and layouts. There are also support files (set strike orders, art department reports) and story boards.

Subseries 9H. James G. Stewart, 1945-1954, 9.5 boxes

Sound engineer. Sound files.

Subseries 9I. Production Stills, 1930-1957, approx. 45 boxes

Some of the stills came from Clarence Slifer's files, some from Selznick International Pictures files (SIP), and others have no author in the database records. There are stills of production sets and locations, matte shots, set sketches, story boards, special effects material, and wardrobe tests. They are listed by date and then by movie title. Since they are physically scattered primarily through the last 500 boxes of the collection, the easiest method of retrieval is to search the database using the keywords "stills" and the movie title.

Subseries 9J. Miscellaneous, 1920-1957, 7.5 boxes

Cutting room files, location and set stills, and story boards.

Series 10. Publicity, 1934-1957, 267.5 boxes

These materials document the promotion of movies and stars primarily from the late 1940s. Promotion of contract stars such as Ingrid Bergman, Joseph Cotten, Jennifer Jones, Gregory Peck, Shirley Temple, and Alida Valli is well documented. Publicity Director Mervin J. Houser's files on A Farewell to Arms present a complete picture of a campaign to promote a movie on its first run. Records include correspondence, biographies, stills, newspaper and magazine clippings, and advertising art. The files are arranged alphabetically by type of material, and then chronologically.

Subseries 10A. Stills (Photographs), 1935-1957, 154 boxes

These photographs are primarily of productions and contract stars, and consist of cast portraits and the photographs taken by a photographer on the set during filming. These photos are then numbered (key number). The photos judged suitable for use are retouched (the negatives show the marks of retouching) and gathered into an album. The photographs were sent to newspapers and magazines, made into lobby cards for the theatres, and used in advertising tie-ups. Gone With the Wind files in boxes 3959-3965 and The Third Man files in boxes 3314-3321 offer an example of a typical arrangement of photographs for film promotion. The key number set is followed by cast portraits, publicity albums, lobby cards, and advertising and exploitation. The stills are physically scattered throughout the last 500 boxes of the collection but the majority are listed at item level in the database and can be searched by using the keyword "stills" and the movie title or name of the star.

Subseries 10B. Aileen Brenon, 1947-1950, 7.5 boxes

Publicist. Also contains the files of Mel Strauss.

Subseries 10C. Robert M. Gillham, 1944-1950, 17.5 boxes

New York Office Publicity Director. Advertising files.

Subseries 10D. Mervin J. Houser, 1946-1957, 29 boxes

Assistant Publicity Director, 1946-1948; Publicity Director, A Farewell to Arms. Files include biographies, clippings, files, notebooks, and stills.

Subseries 10E. Don King, 1943-1945, 5.5 boxes

Also contains files of Whitney Bolton. Correspondence and other files, mostly concern publicity for I'll Be Seeing You and Since You Went Away.

Subseries 10F. Joan Lane, Publicist, 1945-1948, 2.5 boxes

Junior publicist. Files.

Subseries 10G. Paul Macnamara, 1941-1949, 8 boxes

Publicity Director. Clippings and correspondence files, notebooks, and stills.

Subseries 10H. Joseph L. Roberts, 1945-1948, 6 boxes

Publicist. Files.

Subseries 10I. Seymour Robins, 1948-1949, 9 boxes

Artist. Artist files, with mockups for ads, and stills. Especially well represented are Mr. Blandings Builds His Dream House, Portrait of Jennie, and Fallen Idol.

Subseries 10J. Selznick International Pictures (SIP), 1937-1938, 3 boxes

Art Department sketches, biographies, and stills.

Subseries 10K. Bart Sheridan, 1946-1949, 7 boxes

Publicist. Files.

Subseries 10L. Paul Snell, 1934-1936, 6 boxes

Pioneer Pictures publicist. Files and stills.

Subseries 10M. Vanguard Films, 1943-1948, 1.5 boxes

Clippings and fan mail.

Subseries 10N. Miscellaneous, 1937-1954, 11 boxes

Advertising, biographies, clippings, lobby cards, magazines, manuals, pressbooks, programs, promotional items, questionnaire cards for Gone With the Wind, scrapbooks, and stills.

Series 11. Research, 1930-1954, 53 boxes

This series contains photographs, clippings, tear sheets, correspondence, and scrapbooks. Gone With the Wind, Portrait of Jennie, and The Paradine Case are well represented. There is correspondence with Wilbur G. Kurtz, the technical advisor for Gone With the Wind, in which he explains in great detail such matters as the design of Georgia gravestones and Georgia store signs. For The Paradine Case, there are stills showing the exterior and interior of English police stations, the uniforms of English jail wardens, and an exterior shot of a war damaged Old Bailey. There is a memo on Texas customs for Duel in the Sun and photos of Swedish trains for Intermezzo. The files are loosely arranged alphabetically/chronologically or by movie.

Subseries 11A. Lillian K. Deighton, 1936-1940, 14 boxes>

Deighton was Director of Research for Selznick International Pictures from 1936-1939. Includes cards, clippings, correspondence, files and story files.

Subseries 11B. Ann Harris, 1936-50, 15 boxes

Harris succeeded Lillian Deighton as Director of Research in 1939 and stayed with Selznick until 1949. Files include applications, correspondence, files, memos, stills, story properties, and synopses.

Subseries 11C. Miscellaneous, 1930-1954, 24 boxes

Files, photograph albums, scripts, and stills.

Series 12. Story, 1930-1965, 1012 boxes

The records of the story department document the development of a film from synopsis to final shooting script. Material is available for Selznick's independent productions, and for projects developed and sold as well as projects never produced. Types of materials found in this series are synopses, treatments, scripts, continuities, correspondence, agent files, and title registrations.

Subseries 12A. Katharine Brown, 1940-1942, 12.5 boxes

East Coast representative. Correspondence on stories and talent. Also telegrams and synopses.

Subseries 12B. Gerry Deardorff, 1938-1948, 12.5 boxes

Story editor. Includes files on agents, scripts, title registration reports, and writers.

Subseries 12C. Helena L. Hanna, 1945-1948, 8 boxes

Head of the typing department. Typing files for office forms and scripts.

Subseries 12D. Barbara Keon, 1935-1948, 150.5 boxes

Scenario assistant. Ms. Keon acted as the Continuity or Script Supervisor. Her files show all the revisions made on the script as it evolved into the final film. There are the various drafts of the script, story conference notes, script notes by Selznick, continuity files, and files on each contributing writer. The script development files (1936-46) are arranged in one long alphabetical run and are listed at file level. Movies for which there is a significant amount of material include Adventures of Tom Sawyer, Anna Karenina, Beloved Wife, Dark Victory, David Copperfield, Duel in the Sun, Earl of Chicago, Garden of Allah, Gone With the Wind, I'll Be Seeing You, Intermezzo, Jane Eyre, Little Lord Fauntleroy, Made for Each Other, Nothing Sacred, Prisoner of Zenda, Rebecca, Since You Went Away, Spellbound, Star is Born, Tale of Two Cities, and Young in Heart, but other movies are represented as well.

Subseries 12E. Val Lewton, 1935-1942, 22.5 boxes

Story editor. Also acted as liaison with the Hays Office. Files include bulletins, correspondence, script files, and title registration reports.

Subseries 12F. Margaret McDonnell, 1935-1945, 6 boxes

Story editor. Files.

Subseries 12G. Elsa Neuberger, 1935-1949, 11.5 boxes

New York Office Story Department. Files, playbills, and synopses.

Subseries 12H. Lydia Schiller, 1936-1957, 54.5 boxes

Ms. Schiller succeeded Ms. Keon as scenario assistant. Includes material on dialogue and cutting, A Farewell to Arms, and files on script development and scripts.

Subseries 12I. Scripts, 1932-1958, 305 boxes

Files for each date range listed comprise an alphabetical run of script titles, so some scripts may appear in several places: 1930-49 (95 boxes); 1932-51 (45 boxes); 1934-50 (1 box); 1935-54 (90 boxes); 1936-50 (41 boxes); 1936-52 (11 boxes); 1938-44 (2 boxes); 1939-43 (3 boxes); 1939 (1 box); 1934-56 scripts & treatments (16 boxes).

Subseries 12J. Nancy Stern, 1950-1957, 11.5 boxes

New York Office Story Department. Files on talent and stories, including synopses.

Subseries 12K. Synopses, 1935-1962, 366 boxes

Each date range represents an alphabetical run of synopses. 1934-58 (63 boxes); 1935-47 (1 box); 1935-55 (141 boxes); 1936-48 (83 boxes); 1936-62 (35 boxes); 1940-44 (4 boxes); 1943-59 (39 boxes). They are listed at box level.

Subseries 12L. Miscellaneous, 1930-1965, 51.5 boxes

Cards, files, notebooks, properties, release scripts, reports, script development, script files, and title registration.

Series 13. Talent, 1945-1949, 18 boxes

Contains the talent files of Henry Willson, Vanguard Films Executive Assistant to Daniel T. O'Shea, and head of the Talent Department. Types of material are photos, memos, and correspondence. The material is arranged chronologically and then alphabetically by subject.

Series 14. Gifts, 1904-1980, 34 boxes

These materials are donations made to the collection since 1981 when it was received by the Ransom Center. There are 11 boxes of the legal files of Barry Brannen, Selznick's personal attorney; copyprints chronicling Katharine Brown's life; personal photos from the early 1930s from Irene Mayer Selznick's collection; pictures from Selznick's 1949 wedding trip to Europe; the A Farewell to Arms production memos of Jeffrey Selznick; and a copy of John Hay Whitney's stock in Selznick International Pictures.

Related Material

The Ransom Center also holds closely related collections of materials for Jeffrey Selznick, Lewis J. Selznick, Myron Selznick, and John Hay ("Jock") Whitney. Film media holdings include complete 35mm safety film prints of Duel in the Sun, King Kong, Little Women, Rebecca, and Notorious, as well as videotape copies of several Selznick films. Nitrate film for Gone With the Wind, Rebecca, A Star is Born, Intermezzo, and Duel In The Sun is located at George Eastman House.

See also the Gone With the Wind Fan Mail Database, for a selection of correspondence related to the making of the film.

Organization and Access

In the mid 1950s, Selznick made the decision to store his voluminous inactive files at the Bekins Storage Company. Periodically thereafter, the files were boxed for shipment in the order they were removed from the file cabinets, department by department, and an inventory list was maintained.

This inventory list (hereafter referred to as the Bekins list) was used during cataloging to reconstruct the physical order in which the files were retired. A copy of the Bekins storage list is available to researchers. This list can aid the understanding of the current physical arrangement of the materials, and at times provide additional information about the materials.

The processed boxes and folders were described in 14,498 catalog records. Series and file group names were added to each of these records in order to facilitate access to the original departmental or creator groupings of the materials. Thus, while the physical arrangement of the collection does not necessarily always reflect the intellectual arrangement by series, the catalog records provide the means to search for related materials that are physically scattered and view them in a selected order.

The catalog records were previously available in the University's online library catalog. The records are now available in a separate Selznick Collection Database. The data remains the same and is searchable by any field or combination of fields. Search results may then be sorted by any of the fields. The information contained in a typical record is as follows:

Call number: 184 11, the current box number followed by the relevant folder number.

Series: ADMINISTRATIVE: Name of series.

File creator: SELZNICK, DAVID O., 1902-1965. Person within the organization who created and/or maintained the records described in the title.

File title & description: PRODUCTION FILES, type of material contained in the box; 1936 - 1942, date span for this box and related files or boxes; GONE WITH THE WIND FIRE SEQUENCE, file name or description of contents of the specific folder.

File year/span: 1939, date specific to this file.

BK number: BK359, the box number in which the file was originally stored. BK codes used include:

BK# -- The main studio inventory of retired files (Bekins list). BK* indicates that the Bekins number is unknown.

LN# -- Files shipped from the London office.

FC# -- Represents files active at the time of Selznick's death and shipped in file cabinets for storage at Bekins. Also includes files not inventoried on the main Bekins list (e.g., New York files, legal files).

DN -- Additions to the collection after 1981, the year the bulk of the material was received by the Ransom Center.
